WHAT IS MODEL UN?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an educational simulation in which students explore diplomacy, international relations, and the United Nations. MUN practices research, public speaking, debating, and writing skills, in addition to critical thinking and leadership.

Participants in Model UN conferences, named as delegates, are placed in committees and assigned countries. Delegates conduct research and formulate their positions that will be then debated with their fellow delegates in committees. The aim is to reach a solution to a global problem in a form of an outcome document called a resolution.
